

JUNE 2016

interiors+sources

PEOPLE +PLACES

1

Here's a little extension of May's NeoCon preview section. These products are just a few more introductions you'll find on the show floors this month.

1. ERG International continues with this year's trend of companies thinking outside of their box. The Roulette chair is a bright and cheerful single piece of molded plastic, available in six different colors. Meant for both indoor and outdoor use, the frame features a high fiberglass content for extra strength and a UV resistant coating for color longevity. erginternational.com/chairs.php

2. Trace from Luxo, designed by Swedish duo Oskar Daniel and Emil Marklund, screams originality. This task light's output is asymmetric, distributing light evenly at an angle across the working area, which minimizes reflection and allows it to be placed well to the side of the workspace. Available with a USB charging station built into the base and décor rings for the head in three colors. Custom colors available upon request. glamox.com/luxous

3. Go get lost in the mystery that is (los)t Angeles from Bentley. Featuring the latest in pattern tufting technology, two different styles and seven colorways range from urban neutrals to vibrant, saturated hues. The line embodies that juxtaposition of new and old, strange and brilliant, gritty and glamorous that make up the city of L.A. bentleymills.com

► continued on page 46

2

3

